

Aquateric™ N100

An Enteric Coating Solution for Nutraceuticals

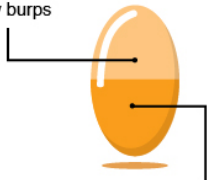

In it

to expand your horizons
(and your margins).

Aquateric™ N100, an alginate-based enteric coating solution, offers an improved sensory experience for consumers and a simplified manufacturing process with significant cost-savings.

Aquateric™ N100 Coating

Customized Alginate blend coating protects Omega-3 from stomach acid and reduces fishy burps

Shell dissolves at higher pH to deliver the active

Proprietary technology for soft capsules

Less Time. Less Cost. More Performance.

The Aquateric ready-to-use formula delivers maximum product functionality with half the preparation time. Simplified manufacturing, combined with FMC's proprietary alginate blend, supply chain efficiencies and shipping optimizations, enable a product at a 25% lower cost-in-use than other products.

The Secret is in the Seaweed

Our advanced enteric coating utilizes the strength and versatility of natural resources that can only be found under the sea – brown seaweed. The alginate technology works by protecting the capsule while in the stomach and keeping the capsule intact until further along in the digestive process, where it releases the active at higher pH levels. This allows for an improved sensory experience for the consumer by reducing unpleasant flavors and odors.

Consistency is Key

As the leading supplier of alginates, FMC has extensive experience delivering the highest quality alginate ingredients, backed by the technical expertise to help you with successful implementation. Through a proven supply chain, FMC can guarantee reliable sourcing, batch-to-batch consistency and end product quality.

COATING FEATURES AND BENEFITS

- Improved sensory experience
- Clean label and non-GMO
- 25% lower cost-in-use than other products*
- Ready-to-use formula with 50% less clean-up time and no harsh chemicals
- Efficient coating process maintains product integrity
- Easy to coat without clogging the spray guns
- Improved product availability with powder ingredients
- Meets the dietary supplement enteric disintegration requirements
- Versatile use for both gelatin and SeaGel® capsules

*based on standard pricing and usage level

To find out how FMC's Aquateric coating solution can work for you, give us a call—1.800.526.3649